AMERICAN SCHOOL OF CREATIVE SCIENCE

The American School of Creative Science, Al Layyah, is a Pre-K-4 learning community that nurtures, cultivates, and fosters creative and critical thinking skills. ASCS follows the US Common Core State Standards for English and Math and Next Generation Science Standards for Science, while providing the MOE curriculum in Arabic, Islamic Studies, Social Studies, and Moral Education. ASCS is also renowned for its unique Quran memorization program.

At ASCS, course delivery methodology is based on world renowned teaching strategies and best practices, with the aim to motivate students to tap into and realize their full potential, ensure the development of the “Whole Child”, as well as build self-confidence and self-awareness, which in turn enables independent learning.

Teachers at ASCS use differentiated instructions, catering to individual needs of each student, communicate regularly with parents, provide a safe and secure environment for learning, and incorporate the latest technology to foster skills. Additionally, our wellbeing and character-building program is integrated across the curriculum, and our English and Arabic departments adopt a common approach, ensuring that links are established between the different subjects.

ASCS' highest priorities for the upcoming years include the retention of all caring, passionate, and qualified staff, with increased professional development, enabling all teachers to deliver their curriculum effectively, and with a focus on students' achievements.

We will also prioritize increasing parental engagement and providing meaningful leadership opportunities for the students. These characteristics, coupled with our ethos, excellence rooted in faith, further enrich our students' learning experiences, nurturing their healthy development, and empowering them to face challenges ahead.

Principal's Message

Welcome to the American School of Creative Science (ASCS), Al Layyah branch, a well-recognized and distinguished school, managed by BEAM. I am extremely proud and honored to be part of the school community as its principal. I bring to ASCS the benefits of over 22 years of experience in teaching, pastoral, coaching, mentoring, and management capacities, as an educator, and an administrator, at various American curriculum schools in the USA, KSA, and UAE.

At ASCS Al Layyah, we prioritize the goals targeted to enhance students' outcomes. We provide educational experiences that develop the health, safety, academic, and overall well-being needs of every child. With the effective integration of technology, our rich, immersive, and inclusive curriculum strives to empower students through simulations, as well as augmented and virtual reality applications, to become future entrepreneurs, innovators, and enthused life-long learners.

To further support students' outcomes, we believe in the power of being involved in the community. We aim to engage our families frequently in their children's education, hence our team will tirelessly maintain lines of communication between home and school, and the leaders will practice an open door policy with parents and stakeholders. Additionally, the ASCS team has planned various school events, and educational parent workshops to further-facilitate this endeavor. Moreover, we aim to encourage our students to participate in events and contests, at the school and local, as well as national and international levels, to enrich their understanding of the world's cultures, and to reinforce their self-confidence.

My commitment to the ASCS Al Layyah, is to lead with passion and enthusiasm, and to enable the school community to reach its priority goals. I am eager to personally welcome our families to ASCS and collaborate with them to meet the needs of our children.
